Selectmen's Meeting

JUNE 4, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

ASSISTANT TO SHELLFISH WARDEN RESIGNS

After Shellfish Warden Al Pauline last Tuesday was given permission by Selectmen to hire a temporary person, at deputy's pay, to handle the tonging to transplant quahogs and oysters, one of the warden's assistants submitted her resignation.

Claiming to have been slighted by Pauline in her job training, Mary Tsitos of 9 Union Avenue (in the Crescent Beach section of town) said she was resigning with many regrets. "I care about the shellfish more than anything. This is a great town, and its great resources need to be protected. As a private citizen you may hear I am harassing my neighbors if they are violating the laws and may call the police."

Ms. Tsitos, who was appointed last year to serve at the east end of town, claimed she cannot continue to work with Pauline. She said she was waiting for training; but, she said, "I kept getting conflicting signals as to the duties to carry out the job effectively." Among other reasons for resigning, Ms. Tsitos said she has been offered a fulltime job.

She explained Pauline told her "that because I'm a woman I could not handle the job. Already there has been an ad in the paper seeking a replacement. I have spoken to my attorney and he said I have grounds for legal action", Ms. Tsitos said.

Pauline explained he needed someone with muscle to do the transplanting work and that he did not ask her for her badge. Selectman Frank Suzan supported Pauline, saying, "To transplant oysters out of contaminated waters to clean water it takes someone with muscle. Even for someone with training it takes someone who can work with a bullrake - it's backbreaking work."

Ms. Tsitos noted that four times Al had made appointments to see her and failed to keep any of them. Al said, "I've been to your house several times and you have not been at home." He stressed he did not ask for her badge, but that if she insisted on resigning he would not oppose her decision. "I have no apologies to make for this action, " Al said, "but I can't be in one hundred places at one time."

Ms. Tsitos said that for three years she has volunteered to work with the shellfish warden and has been turned down. "Money is not important - it is the shellfish that is important to me." She said that she will do her best as a private citizen to see to it that the shellfish regulations are not violated - even if the violations are made by her neighbors.

Selectman James F. Huntoon commented that there are numerous violations in the east end in the pond area and that it is a shame the area won't be covered until "we make a new appointment".

Huntoon said, "We appreciate your enthusiasm, but perhaps it could have been guided better." Ms. Tsitos rejected a request by the board to reconsider her regisnation. (Chairman John DeCosta did not attend as he is on vacation.)

In other business, Selectmen:

NOTED Selectmen Chairman DeCosta will represent the board at the June 14th Flag Day ceremonies at Center School. An invitation was extended by Principal Katherine Kozicki to attend the 1:00 p.m. program.

RECEIVED FIVE APPLICATIONS for the position of Harbormaster/Wharf Commissioner. They include Russell G. Converse, William O. Hall, Steven Mach, Calvin F. Perkins, Jr., and Conrad H. Roy. Interviews will be conducted with each applicant at next Tuesday's Selectmen's meeting.

RECEIVED WORD from State Rep. John Bradford advising that the Municipal Franchise Fee Act entitles towns to collect two percent of the cable company's gross revenues instead of the present fee of 50 cents per subscriber.

American Cablesystems that services Mattapoisett is not too happy with the revised figure, commented Huntoon. Selectmen Suzan and Huntoon expressed favorable comments on the change which, they say, will increase the town's receipts. At the present time the approximately 1,500 subscribers brings in about $760. This is expected to more than double, said Huntoon.

WERE INFORMED by Joan Walsh, Superintendent of the Old Rochester Regional School District, that the Massachusetts Bureau of Accounts conducts full district audits every three years; the last full audit was completed on July 31, 1981. Also, that the $1.50 per child. Babysitting will be provided in the nursery and a video tape presentation will be available for further explanation of the very special features of a playground designed by architect Robert Leathers. T-shirts bearing the P.A.S.S. logo will be sold in sizes for adults as well as children.

This is the first of several exciting events planned to familiarize the community with the concept of a volunteer-built playground and to provide a means of raising the money necessary to build one at Sippican School. Future plans include a Walk-a-Thon, a "Buy-a-Board" campaign, a 50's dance, a Bourbon Street Parade, and an auction.

The playground carries the support and enthusiasm of the school committee and the selectmen. It is being endorsed by the Marion Mothers' Club, the Men's Social Club, the Boy Scouts, and numerous other civic organizations. Sippican Ocean Systems made Design Day possible through its very generous donation and has provided the funding to launch the first fund-raiser.

Transportation will be the topic on the agenda in the exploration of 20th century history here in Mattapoisett.

How many sawmills were located in town and where? How many ice houses and ice ponds? Where did townspeople work to make their living? Did they live off the land and sea in the early part of this century?

We continue our quest in gathering information to record Mattapoisett's past.

Meetings are open to all! Come join these armchair discussions.

Winecellar™

Learn as you play is the point of WINECELLAR. The game was created as both a fun and educational way to explore the fascinating world of wine. The object of WINECELLAR is to collect as many different wines within each category – a category is a country, region, or state – as possible. Sounds simple enough but there are twenty different categories in WINECELLAR and some wines will become "sold out" and you'll have to trade with another player to obtain them. The Winecellar Cards can also hinder your chances of having a well-rounded cellar or another player may take your 1975 red Bordeaux by landing on your starting position. But if you are strategic in your collecting you may be able to acquire more points than your opponents at the end of play.

State and National Scholarships

Susan T. Herman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herman of Rochester, has been notified that she is the recipient of the DeWitt Wallace Memorial Scholarship given by the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America. CSFA is the parent organization for "Dollars for Scholars". Every "Dollars for Scholars" chapter is able to nominate two candidates for the national awards. Ms. Herman was valedictorian of the Class of 1985 at ORR and will attend Johns Hopkins University next fall. She plans to major in classics and pre-med.

Ann Riedl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea of Marion, has been named the recipient of Eugene C. Struckhoff Scholarship. This award is also given by the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of America. Ms. Riedl has also been awarded a scholarship by the Commonwealth Scholars Program. This year the Board of Regents of the Commonwealth instituted a new program to recognize outstanding students throughout the state. Each high school could nominate three students. Students nominated had to have 3.5 minimum grade point average, rank in the top ten percent of the class and plan to attend a public or private post-secondary institution in Massachusetts. Ms. Riedl plans to attend Harvard University where she will major in psychology.

The third and fourth plates are of Rogers School in Fairhaven and Rogers' boyhood home.

Trivia enthusiasts are invited to count the 14 happy Jester Masques, molded in concrete, which decorate the red brick Center School, winking and smiling at the children playing in the schoolyard, a far cry from the tradition of hickory sticks.

The children definitely learned more about town government and the history of our town from Mr. DeCosta. Upon completion of the discussion period in the conference room, the children visit-

John Bullard Resigns

WHALE AGENT DEPARTS AFTER ELEVEN YEARS

John K. Bullard announced his resignation as WHALE's Agent at the Annual Meeting on June 5th at the Zeiterion Theatre. He will serve part-time as a consultant until a replacement is found. President Thomas Bucar has appointed a Search Committee to select a new Director.

Mr. Bullard told the members that it was the right time for WHALE to have new leadership. He cited the recent completion of WHALE's work in the waterfront historic district, the Zeiterion Theatre and the Rotch-Jones-Duff House, as well as WHALE's new plans for downtown revitalization. "We are at a transition point in WHALE's history. We have achieved much for which we all should be proud. Now we are about to embark in a new direction. It is a perfectly appropriate time for this Agent to make way for someone else."

President Bucar lauded Mr. Bullard's service. He said, "John has made the impossible seem possible and the unreasonable completely reasonable." Mr. Bucar agreed that Mr. Bullard's departure would be a major change for WHALE but, "looked at in its proper perspective, this change is appropriate and will be good for John and WHALE."

Mr. Bucar appointed Board Members Anne Brengle, Sarah Delano, Helen Goddard and John Middleton to the Search Committee and asked them to begin a nationwide search for a successor with a selection to be made by September 17th. Mr. Bullard has agreed to continue part-time to facilitate the transition.

John Bullard began as Agent for WHALE, the Old Dartmouth Historical Society and the Bedford Landing Taxpayers' Association on July 4th, 1974. He led the effort to revitalize the waterfront historic district, for which he and WHALE received an Honor Award from the National Trust for Historic Preservation in 1981. His vision and leadership in the effort to save the Zeiterion Theatre earned him a Preservation Award from the Massachusetts Historical Commission in 1983. Among other honors, Mr. Bullard received the highest award given by the New Bedford Area Chamber of Commerce in 1980.

In 1983 Mr. Bullard took a leave of absence to campaign for Mayor. He topped a field of 18 in the primary but lost the final to Brian Lawler. Mr. Bullard did not say at the annual meeting what his personal plans for the future are.

ENTERING THE JOB MARKET:
THE COST TO HOMEMAKERS

Whether you're a homemaker who is being thrust into the work force because of divorce or the death of a spouse, or you're looking for a way to contribute some extra income to your household, it's important to consider your financial situation in your job search, points out the Massachusett Society of Certified Public Accountants, Inc.

If you don't already have one, set up a budget to guide you in spending current income as well as anticipated earnings.

When evaluating any job offer, deduct the costs of holding the job from its total dollar compensation. Consider the transportation costs and expenses for clothing, lunches and child care which may result from you taking a specific position.

Calculate the deductions from your gross salary to determine the amount of your take-home pay. Your gross salary may be $15,000 a year, but your net income will probably be at least 15 to 20 percent less than that due to deductions for such things as taxes and insurance plans from your paycheck.

When evaluating what a job has to offer take into account the company's fringe benefits. Health and life insurance plans, thrift plans, stock purchase options, pension plans and other benefits, such as low-cost meals and child care, can add as much as 25 percent to your base pay.

When you take a job your tax situation is likely to change. If you're married you and your spouse will most likely be taxed at a higher rate as a result of your added income. However, some of your work-related expenses may be deductible:

* Dues to unions or professional organizations related to your occupation;
* Medical exams required by your employer:
* Special uniforms which are required by your employer and which cannot be adapted to personal use.

If the personal or economic costs of a full-time job are simply too high for you consider part-time employment. A temporary employment situation affords you an opportunity to earn money, gain experience and evaluate and improve job skills while leaving you time to meet personal and family commitments.

434 MILL STREET (RTE. 6) MARION, MA. Tues.-Sun. 9-6

Bernard Glassman, co-directors of the Southeastern Massachusetts University Center for Jewish Culture, have announced that the sixth annual Judaic Institute will be held this year on the SMU campus from June 23 to June 27. In the spirit of the well-known medieval thinker Moses Maimonides, the Institute will explore the place of Jewish tradition and values in the midst of the perplexity of world today. Topics for discussion will include "An Agenda for American Jewry", "The Perplexity of Jewish Peoplehood", and "Dilemmas of Social Responsibility".

According to Professor Waxler, "The Center for Jewish Culture is presenting a series of lectures and discussions here at the Institute to attempt to explore those issues that are of particular interest to Jews but are also crucial topics that all thinking people should be concerned with."

"We are going to be talking about the problems of the universal and the particular, the place of the Jewish people in world history, the nature of survival," said Rabbi Glassman.

In addition to morning sessions at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. by Waxler and Glassman, which include a panel discussion, a classic Yiddish film, and a talk by Hassidic Rabbi Mayer Horowitz, the Institute will also present three evening lectures at 8 p.m., by Dr. Robert Gordis, Dr. Jane Gerber, and Rabbi Balfour Erickner. In addition, the Institute will feature a unique exhibit entitled "The Jewish Community in Early America" in the Gallery of the College of Visual and Performing Arts Building.

"The Institute reflects in many ways the work that the Center for Jewish Culture has done over the past six years," Waxler said. "It combines our archival expertise and our academic direction with concerns that people in the community have in regard to human values and social justice. It

The second installment of estimated federal tax payments on 1985 individual income is due by June 17, 1985, because the 15th falls on a weekend, John D. Johnson, District Director of IRS in Massachusetts, said.

Taxpayers should be aware that the penalty for underpayment of estimated tax is now 13%.

FAILURE TO SUPPORT YOUR CHILDREN IS WRONG

IT'S ALSO A CRIME

If you're a person who has failed to make child support payments and think you're beating the system, think again! The District Attorney's Office has launched a campaign to enforce the Child Support Laws. This effort will include arrest by the Sheriff, if necessary, of any parent who has defaulted on child support payments.

15,000,000 children live in homes without their fathers. As a result, these children miss more than the companionship of a parent, often they miss the proper care and support that, frankly, only money can buy.

If you want to avoid arrest for failure to support your children, or if you have information on a non-supporting parent, call the Sheriff's Office at 580-2110.
